Republic of Palau-GridMarket-EarthX: Partnership for a Clean Energy Future

EarthX and GridMarket (the “Partnership”) are proud to announce our commitment to transitioning the Republic of Palau to a low cost, carbon-free future. EarthX brings leaders and stakeholders together at the world’s largest environmental expo to promote sustainable practices and operates under the vision of philanthropist Trammell S. Crow. GridMarket catalyzes clean energy transitions for governments, companies, and institutions through data intelligence, strategic planning, and an innovative marketplace and financing platform.

The Partnership is committed to working closely with the Republic of Palau to accelerate its transition to a clean energy economy. The Partnership will consolidate stakeholders and partners to coordinate a blend of private, public, and philanthropic funding for the benefit of the nation, with the purpose of reducing energy rates while helping to achieve and exceed Palau’s goal of 45% renewable energy by 2025.

EarthX commits to showcasing the Republic of Palau’s progress towards a clean energy economy at next year’s EarthX event and has committed to underwriting GridMarket’s development of a clean and comprehensive energy strategy. GridMarket will work closely with public and private entities to identify the ideal mix of energy solutions and partners to accelerate Palau’s goals. GridMarket also commits to incorporating past analysis and current assessments into a comprehensive strategic energy plan for the Republic of Palau, while coordinating existing partner contributions and identifying pre-qualified solution providers committed and capable of fulfilling these infrastructure objectives.

The Republic of Palau will make available relevant data and commits to attending and celebrating the progress and success of this partnership at next year’s EarthX event as well as other global forums throughout the year.

The nation of Palau and the GridMarket/EarthX partnership will work closely together to identify, promote, and deploy technologies and policies that will achieve and exceed Palau’s goals, while providing cost-effective, resilient, and time-sensitive solutions to the country and citizens of the Republic of Palau.
