Notes

RPPL 9-64 § 1. Legislative findings. The Olbiil Era Kelulau finds that one of the best available means to encourage the expansion of Palau's private economic sector so as to help create a more broad-based and sustainable economy is to modernize and incentivize the Foreign Investment Act. The creation of a broad-based sustainable private sector economy in Palau will help lessen our people's dependence on government as the preferred and primary source of employment and livelihood in Palau by creating alternative, private sector jobs and other business opportunities for Palauan citizens and residents.

The Olbiil Era Kelulau further finds that private business within the Republic of Palau must be protected. In effect, a proper balance must be found that encourages foreigners to invest money in the Republic of Palau to create a vibrant economy and lift up the livelihoods of all, while at the same time protecting Palauans from foreigners who could swallow up their ability to compete. This bill maintains the local ownership requirements set forth in 28 PNC § 105, while expanding the incentives for foreigners to invest and easing the bureaucracy toward obtaining a license.

Former Chapter 1 sections 101 to 167, 33 TTC § 1-19, amended by RPPL 3-30 § 9[8,9,10,11,12,13 & 14] were repealed by RPPL 3-34 § 22.

§ 702. Intent and purpose.

It is the intent and purpose of this chapter to provide for fulfillment of all requisite steps and actions required of the Government and the people of the Republic of Palau in order for the Compact of Free Association between the Republic of Palau and the United States of America to take effect.

RPPL 4-9 § 2, modified.

§ 703. Legislative findings and declarations.

The Fourth Olbiil Era Kelulau, in an effort to resolve the future political status for the people and the Government of the Republic of Palau in a relationship of free association with the United

28 PNCA § 703 FOREIGN RELATIONS AND TRADE

States of America, finds and declares as follows:

- (a) Since the commencement of formal negotiations between the United States and members of the Congress of Micronesia in early 1970's, Palau government officials were engaged in a number of joint future political status discussions with officials of the United States of America on a multilateral level alongside representatives of the Federated States of Micronesia and the Republic of the Marshall Islands centered on a relationship of free association.
- (b) Following the division of the former Trust Territory of the Pacific Islands into separate political entities resulting from the 1978 constitutional referendum of the FSM Constitution, Palau commenced its own bilateral status negotiations with the United States of America with such negotiations still centered on a relationship of free association.
- (c) From January to April of 1979, thirty-eight (38) convention delegates assembled, drafted and approved a Constitution for the Republic of Palau which, after three constitutional referenda, was duly ratified overwhelmingly by the Palauan voting public on July 9, 1980, and took effect on January 1, 1981.
- (d) Over the past 10 years, a total of seven (7) plebiscites on a Compact of Free Association have been conducted and observed by the United Nations Observer Missions within and outside the Republic of Palau with the following voting results:
 - (1) February 10, 1983 with 62% in favor of Free Association; 31% for closer association with (territory of) the United States; 29% for independence;
 - (2) September 4, 1984, with 67% in favor of Free Association; 33% for closer association with (territory of) the United States; 14% for independence;
 - (3) February 21, 1986, with 72% favorable vote for Free Association and 28% against;
 - (4) December 2, 1986, with 66% in favor of Free Association and 34% against;
 - (5) June 30, 1987, with 68% in favor of Free Association and 32% against;
 - (6) August 21, 1987, with 73% in favor of Free Association and 27% against; and
 - (7) February 6, 1990, with 60% in favor of Free Association and 40% against.

(e) To lower the Compact approval from the constitutionally mandated requirement of 75% approval to that of a simple majority vote, two constitutional amendment referenda have been held in the Republic of Palau with following results:

(1) On August 4, 1987, the first such constitutional amendment referendum was held resulting in a 73% affirmative vote. However, the outcome of said referendum was nullified in Civil Action No. 161-87 and which nullification was affirmed on appeal in Civil Appeal No. 60, for lack of three-fourth (3/4) voters required of each House of the Olbiil Era Kelulau to pass legislation authorizing a constitutional amendment pursuant to Article XIV, Section 1(c) of the Constitution.

(2) The second such constitutional amendment referendum was held on November 4, 1992, in which the proposed amendment was approved by a 62% majority vote overall and by 14 out of the 16 states as is required for passage under Section 11 of Article XV of the Constitution. That referendum vote was authorized by a petition signed by not less than twenty-five percent (25%) of the registered voters of the Republic as is required pursuant to Article XIV, Section 1(b) of the Constitution.

(f) For the Compact of Free Association to take effect or be implemented, it must first be approved by both the Republic of Palau and the United States of America according to their respective constitutional processes. The Compact, together with its associated Subsidiary Agreements, was signed by duly designated representatives of the United States of America and the Republic of Palau on January 10, 1986. The United States Government has to date approved the Compact of Free Association by the enactment of the following United States laws:

(1) US Public Law 99-239, approved on January 14, 1986, entitled a “Joint Resolution to approve the ‘Compact of Free Association’” (mainly for the Federated States of Micronesia and the Republic of the Marshall Islands, but including Palau as well), and known as the COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION ACT OF 1985 (99 Stat. 1770-1841);

(2) US Public Law 99-658, approved on November 14, 1986, entitled a “Joint Resolution to approve the ‘Compact of Free Association’ between the United States and the Government of Palau...” and known as COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION, APPROVAL (100 Stat. 3672-3704); and

(3) US Public Law 101-219, approved on December 12, 1989, entitled a “Joint Resolution to authorize entry into force of the Compact of Free Association between the United States and the Government of the Republic of Palau...” and known as IMPLEMENTATION OF COMPACT OF FREE ASSOCIATION WITH PALAU (103 Stat. 1870-1875).

(g) The President of the Republic of Palau has held discussions and negotiated with the United States regarding modifications to the Compact of Free Association and has received a letter of assurances regarding the Compact from the Government of the United States signed by the Secretary of State of the United States, dated May 6, 1993 (the “Letter of Assurances”), which assurances the President of the Republic of Palau has determined constitute a favorable response by the United States to Palau’s request for Compact modifications.
